In these circumstances, the Carrier can require the passenger to provide medical clearance that then must be accepted by the Carrier's MEDA desk as a condition of the passenger's acceptance for subsequent travel. The Carrier may refuse transportation to the person posing such hazard or risk.

6.4.3 Failure to Provide a Suitable Escort

When the passenger requires an escort due to a mental disorder and under care of a psychiatric institution or in the custody of law enforcement personnel or other responsible authority and the necessary arrangements have not been made with the carrier in advanced of the departure of the flight.

The medical clearance will be valid for a period of 2 years. The passenger is required to inform the Carrier of any significant change in the information provided in the context of the medical clearance process. The Carrier reserves the right to review the medical clearance before the expiry of the 2 year validity period at its discretion.

If the passenger's desired routing will involve interline travel on both the Carrier and another carrier, or the Carrier's code-share flights operated by another carrier, the passenger must contact each operating carrier directly in order to reserve space. In order to minimize passenger inconvenience and avoid unnecessary duplication of paperwork, the Carrier will accept a completed Air Canada "Fitness for Travel" form for passengers required to book separate tickets on both the Carrier and Air Canada.

Except as otherwise provided, stopovers will be permitted on transportation solely within Canada only upon payment of the applicable local/sector fares.

20.6 Routings

 - a) The carrier whose designator code is identified on the first segment of the passenger's interline ticket will be known as the selecting carrier.
 - b) Any carrier who is identified as providing interline transportation to the passenger by virtue of the passenger's ticket will be known as a participating carrier.

 - f) Application of baggage allowances and charges (i.e. whether they are applied once per direction or if they are applicable at each stopover point).

RULE 24. CHECKED AND CARRY-ON BAGGAGE

Passenger may check baggage for carriage in the cargo compartment of the aircraft and/or may carry baggage on board the aircraft subject to the provisions in sections 24.1 and 24.2 below. The Carrier will determine the suitability of baggage, as to weight, size, and character, to be carried in the passenger compartment of the aircraft.

24.1 Checked Baggage

Carrier will check baggage which is tendered by the passenger and which is acceptable under the terms of RULE 22, ACCEPTANCE OF BAGGAGE, RULE 25, CONDITIONS AND CHARGES FOR ACCEPTANCE OF SPECIAL AND/OR FRAGILE ITEMS AND PROHIBITED ITEMS, and RULE 26, CONDITIONS AND CHARGES FOR LIVE ANIMALS, upon presentation by the passenger of a valid ticket for transportation over the lines of the Carrier or over the lines of that Carrier and one or more other Carriers, subject to the conditions specified below:

- 1) Baggage must be checked at the designated Carrier check-in counter not later than the airport check-in cut-off time.
- 2) Passenger's name must appear on the outside of the baggage
- 3) Baggage will not be checked:

 - b) Beyond a point to which the passenger wants to reclaim the baggage, or beyond a point to which all applicable charges have been paid.

Delivery will be made at the destination shown on the baggage check.

If the provisions in section 24.1 above are not complied with by a person claiming the baggage, the Carrier will deliver the baggage only on condition that such person establishes to the Carrier's satisfaction his/her right thereto.

At the request of the bearer of the baggage check and baggage (claim) tag(s), checked baggage will be delivered at a place of departure or an intermediate stopping place upon the same conditions provided for in section 24.1 above, unless precluded by government regulations, or unless time and circumstances do not permit.

Acceptance of baggage by the bearer of the baggage check and baggage (claim) tag(s) without written complaint at the time of delivery is presumptive evidence that the baggage and contents have been delivered in good condition and in accordance with the contract of carriage.

Passenger(s) who arrive at the airport of departure for check-in after the airport check-in cut off time for scheduled departure or who are travelling on standby basis and are accepted for carriage will be advised that it may not be possible to load their checked baggage on the flight on which he/she has been accepted for carriage, such baggage will be accepted upon execution of a release, supplied by the Carrier, which relieves the Carrier from liability of any delivery charges resulting from failure of baggage to arrive on the flight on which the passenger travelled unless the Carrier has failed to exercise ordinary standard of care in the carriage and delivery of the baggage.

24.3 Carry-on Baggage

Baggage must be safely stored at all times, including takeoffs and/or landings or when requested to do so by a member of the cabin crew for safety reasons. The Carrier may require that the proposed carry-on baggage be checked as checked baggage due to space limitations within the cabin of the aircraft, as such, RULE 22, ACCEPTANCE OF BAGGAGE, RULE 25, CONDITIONS AND CHARGES FOR ACCEPTANCE OF SPECIAL AND/OR FRAGILE ITEMS AND PROHIBITED ITEMS, RULE 26, CONDITIONS AND CHARGES FOR LIVE ANIMALS, as well as sections 24.1 and 24.2 above shall apply.

Should any of these devices be operated or should any other device in the possession of the passenger(s) cause interference to aircraft navigation system, a member of the crew may require the device to be turned off or removed from the possession of the passenger(s) for the duration of the flight.

24.3.2 Maximum Number of Pieces, Size and Weight

Passengers are encouraged to contact the Carrier at customerrelations@canadiannorth.com so that the Carrier can address the passenger's concern. In order to help the Carrier assist the passenger, the following details are required:

Denied boarding occurs when the number of passengers present for boarding exceeds the number of seats available on a flight. This does not include situations where a passenger is refused transport for safety, security or health reasons.

The Carrier has clearly defined policies regarding how denied boarding will be handled, which are explained fully within RULE 31.

If a passenger is denied boarding against their will for a reason that is within the Carrier's control and not required for safety – for example, overbooking or a change in aircraft due to scheduled maintenance – the passenger will be entitled to compensation. This compensation is based on the length of delay upon arrival at the final destination.

The Carrier will issue compensation at the time the passenger is notified that they are denied boarding. The amount of compensation may be supplemented if the delay at arrival is longer than was expected when payment was issued. If payment cannot be made before the passenger's new departure time, the Carrier will issue the payment within 48 hours.

If the Carrier has denied boarding to the passenger, the Carrier will rebook the passenger free of charge, meeting the same obligations as described for flight delays and cancellations below. While the passenger waits for their new flight, the Carrier will provide an appropriate standard of treatment (subject to local availability):

The claim form should be completed in its entirety with a detailed description of each individual item contained within the bag(s), or the items missing from the baggage, including signatures from all persons impacted. Situations within airline control are any situations not covered by the two categories below. For example, they include commercial overbooking; scheduled maintenance of an aircraft that is necessary to comply with legal requirements; or mechanical malfunction of the aircraft identified during scheduled maintenance.

Situations within airline control but required for safety purposes are typically unforeseen events legally required to reduce safety risk to passengers. While this includes mechanical problems, it does not include scheduled maintenance or mechanical problems identified during scheduled maintenance. Safety decisions made by the pilot and those made under an airline's Safety Management System would also fall into this category.

Situations outside airline control include: war or political instability; illegal acts or sabotage; meteorological conditions or natural disasters that make the safe operation of the aircraft impossible; instructions from air traffic control; a Notice to Airmen (as defined in the Canadian Aviation Regulations); a security threat; airport operation issues; a medical emergency; a collision with wildlife; a labour disruption within the carrier or within an essential service provider such as an airport or an air navigation service provider; a manufacturing defect in an aircraft that reduces the safety of passengers and that was identified by the manufacturer of the aircraft concerned, or by a competent authority; and an order or instruction from an official of a state or a law enforcement agency or from a person responsible for airport security.
